ABOUT THE JOURNAL

LUMINA is an interdisciplinary journal of Holy Name University (HNU), Tagbilaran City, Bohol, Philippines, published annually by the HNU Center for Research and Publications. Using a double-blind peer review, the journal publishes articles from the HNU academic community, alumni, and other scholars from the Philippines and other countries throughout the globe. Research and scholarly papers in the basic and applied sciences, viz. social, theological, philosophical, anthropological, and natural sciences, among others, and book reviews are accepted in this journal. Moreover, LUMINA's 30th edition includes educational studies, which collectively serve as another lens to examine the psycho-philosophical aspects of human conditions. Scholarly papers written in Cebuano or Tagalog are most welcome.

LUMINA is a Latin word that means "light" or "illumination" — one which is indispensably needed by a person who is searching for something in a research.

LUMINA Editorial Board makes it explicit that the accuracy of facts and/or quotations, opinions, findings, and conclusions are the sole responsibility of the respective authors and do not reflect the opinions and positions of the editors and Holy Name University as an academic institution.
