

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Dr. Genaro V. Japos is presently the Director of the Office of Research and Publication of Liceo de Cagayan University in Cagayan de Oro City. He is the President and one of the founders of Philippine Association of Institutions for Research. He is a multi-awarded scholar who holds five doctoral degrees. Dr. Teresita T. Tumapon is currently the Vice President for Academic Affairs of Liceo de Cagayan University and also the Editor-in-chief of LdCU's CHED accredited journal, Liceo Higher Education Journal. Dr. Tumapon, like Dr. Japos, is also a multi-awarded scholar specifically in the arena of research. Dr. Emiliana J. Lozano teaches at the Father Saturnino Urios University in Butuan City.

Dr. Frederick David Abraham is currently teaching at the Blueberry Brain Institute, Vermont, USA. He received his BA at Dartmouth, Master's Degree at the University of Michigan, USA, and Ph.D. at Indiana University, and postdoctorals at UCLA and UCSD.

Prof. Farrahmila A. Mala is an independent researcher born in Tubod, Iligan City. She previously worked as an approvals representative for IBM Business Services, Inc. where she handled international initiation assignments. She received her bachelor's degree major in Interdisciplinary Business Studies, minor in Legal Management (Honorable Mention) from De La Salle University – Manila. At present, she is pursuing further studies in Law at San Beda College. She is interested in Philosophy of Law, Business Philosophy, and Human Rights Law.

Prof. Rafael D. Pangilinan has published some articles on Frankfurt School thinkers such as Fromm, Adorno, Horkheimer, and Habermas with emphasis on variegated issues stemming from contemporary revisionist readings of Marx such as negative theology, socialist humanism, critical pedagogy and dialogical philosophy. His work has appeared in Ad Veritatem, Colloquia Manilana, Hapag: A Journal of Interdisciplinary Theological Research, Kritike, Lumina, Philosophy Pathways, and Philosophy for Business. His research interests include Critical Theory, feminism, postmodernism, and political theory. He is also a member of the International Society for Philosophers and Society for Interdisciplinary Feminist Phenomenology. He is currently affiliated with the University of Santo Tomas, San Beda College, and Centro Escolar University.

Rev. G. N. Toryough teaches at the Religious Studies Department of the University of Ibadan, Ibadan, Nigeria.

Prof. Josefino C. Sianghio is currently connected at the Asian Center of the University of the Philippines, Dilliman, Quezon City.

Dr. Christian O. Uchegbue is a Senior Lecturer at the Department of Religious Studies, University of Calabar, Calabar, Nigeria. He holds Master's and Doctorate degrees from University of Ibadan, Ibadan, Nigeria. He is currently the Chairman of the Post-graduate Committee for the Department of Religious Studies, University of Calabar.

Prof. Ferdinand M. Mangibin is currently the Chairman of the Philosophy and Religious Department of Silliman University, Dumaguete City.

Dr. Martin Onwuegbusi is a senior lecturer in the Department of Philosophy, Olabisi Onabanjo University, Ago-Iwoye, Nigeria. He has published some papers on Process Philosophy of Alfred North Whitehead, Phenomenology, and Existentialist Philosophy.

Prof. Menelito P. Mansueto teaches philosophy and other social sciences subjects at the Bohol Island State University, Tagbilaran City, Bohol.

Dr. Douglas I. O Anele is currently connected at the Philosophy Department of the University of Lagos, Akoka, Yaba, Lagos, Nigeria.

Dr. Rhod V. Nuncio finished his Ph. D and M.A. in Philippine Studies from University of the Philippines, Diliman, Quezon City and his A.B. Philosophy and Human Resource Development from San Beda College. He holds the Cecilio M. Lopez Professional Chair in Language and Literature. He was the former chair of the Departmento ng Filipino at De La Salle University-Manila. He is now on his sabbatical leave for S.Y. 2010-2011 doing research. He authored books and essays on internet studies, media and technology, and Philippine culture and society.

Dr. Rotimi Omotoye is a Senior Lecturer in Church History and Inter-religious Dialogue. He was a former Acting Head of the Department of Religions, University of Ilorin and spent his sabbatical leave at Lagos State University, Ojo, Lagos. Now, he is back at the University of Ilorin.

Prof. Odion Simon Ehiabhi obtained his Bachelor's Degree in History in 1995, Master's Degree in International History and Diplomacy in 1999, and a Master's Degree in Arts (History) in 2004, all from the Department of History and International Studies of the University of Benin, Nigeria. He is presently completing his Ph.D. dissertation on "Colonial Uromi: A Study in Sociopolitical Transformation" from the abovestated University. He has published numerous articles in refereed journals such as The Benin Monarchy: Origin and Patterns of Pre-colonial Relations of the Kingdom of Owo in Eastern Yorubaland; Journal of Social Sciences, GC University, Faisalabad, Pakistan, Vol 3, No. 3, 2009, and Indigenous Diplomacy in the Cohension of the Esan People in Pre-colonial Period; BIUDISCOURSE, Journal of Arts and Education, Benson Idahosa University, Benin, Nigeria. He is a Lecturer I in the Department of History and International Studies, Adekunle Ajasin University, Akungba-Akoko, Ondo State, Nigeria.

Dr. Wale Olajide is currently connected at the Philosophy Department of the University of Ado-Ekiti.

Dr. Benson O. Igboin lectures Philosophy of Religion and courses in African studies in the Department of Religious Studies, Adekunle Ajasin University, Akungba-Akoko, Ondo State. He holds a Ph. D. in Philosophy of Religion. He is the Review Editor, JORAC: Journal of Religion and African Culture. He has published in local, national, and international books and journals.

Prof. Olusanya Faboyede teaches History at the Adekunle Ajasin University, Akungba-Akoko in Ondo-State, Nigeria and is currently doing research on the Akoko Elite. He specializes in Socio-Cultural History, Integration, and Community Development. He is scheduled to publish a book on a history of Okeagbe, 1924-1999. He has a flair for environmental history.

Prof. Cyril Belvis is an Assistant Professor in Literature at De La Salle Araneta University. He is at present pursuing his doctorate in Philippine Studies at the University of the Philippines—Diliman, Quezon City. His academic interest lies in the intersection of theory and local texts. His paper on Novena and Performativity was recently published by eSharp, a journal of the University of Glasgow, United Kingdom.